What's your file type?
Print hundreds of file types directly from your database without ever leaving qoreLogic. Large or short runs. Point-click-print. Done. All without opening the native application.

Qore dashboard
Manage and convert documents in bulk, or by the job. Either is equally as simple.

PDF/A
Preserve documents in a single step. Choose from several formats, all meeting ISO standards.

OCR technology
The indexing of documents is typically manual and not scalable as more documents to index means more headcount and can quickly create cost overruns. With qoreLogic, all imaged documents can be scanned, and the OCR text stored safely in searchable PDF documents with automatic indexing.

Transmittal management
Create, consolidate and protect digital assets to internal and stakeholders. Collaboration is secure through to executed agreement. Whether revisions are made to a single sheet or an entire document, all correspondence is tracked, and system stored to protect the chain of control. The result is frictionless, secure communication.

Model-Based Design
Access detailed MBD data at any part of the process to facilitate rapid and seamless delivery. Qore8's MBD platform collects product structure, PMI, and GD&T from your PLM/PDM and converts flawlessly to support downstream collaboration. Time-to-production is realized 40 percent sooner—achieved through higher quality—reducing errors and re-work.

Title Block Plus
Giving time back to your engineers is priceless, reducing errors due to manual entries is critical, our automation tool designed to update custom tables within the native CAD files, including title blocks, and revision tables, will give your engineers back hours a day. Automating a manual process and mitigating error prone entries.
